

Ashton Primary School – Thank you

To Dean Hutchinson and Michael Brophy,
Plasterers from SCS.

Carillion would like to thank both Dean and Michael with a £10 gift voucher each for continually doing everything that is expected, well.

The pair have worked safely in full PPE, in areas agreed with the site team and their supervisor David Kirk in the 4C's meetings. Working in line with the production required to keep their plastering works on target. They are always happy to discuss the works and even at times reschedule areas to accommodate other works.

The quality of workmanship from the pair has been commented on by the site team and several Carillion Directors on their tours of the Ashton project.

Their work areas are always as clean as possible, free from obstruction and there are never more materials around than required for that day's work. At the end of each day the following day's work areas are prepared, floors scraped, beads fitted and buckets filled.

As previously stated nothing more than you would expect from any construction professional but these two have been recognised as they do this continually and always with a smile and a pleasant greeting.

Many thanks for your support and commitment,

*Kind regards,
Brent McCrudden
Project Manager*
